
Austrian Leopold Engleitner, 107, world's oldest living victim of concentration camps

whatsonsanya Wednesday 21st November, 2012

A 107-year-old Christian who is the oldest living victim of the concentration camps who was imprisoned because of his beliefs is to fly to New York for the premier of a film about his life. Leopold Engleitner, 107, from St. Wolfgang in Upper Austria, will be in the US to attend the Los Angeles premier of the documentary called "Ladder in the Lions' Den". The film charts Engleitner's experiences as a conscientious objector and a Jehovah's Wi...